KLARIIS EXIM PVT LTD

Assam black tea, cultivated in the northeastern state of Assam, India, is renowned globally for its robust flavor, deep amber liquor, and malty richness. Grown in the fertile plains along the Brahmaputra River, Assam tea thrives in a tropical climate that enhances its bold, brisk taste, making it a popular base for strong breakfast blends like English Breakfast Tea.

Notably, Assam accounts for over 50% of India's total tea production. Its premium variants, such as CTC (Crush, Tear, Curl) and orthodox tea, are highly sought after worldwide. Assam black tea has also received a GI (Geographical Indication) tag, signifying its unique qualities that are inherently linked to the region's terroir. Whether enjoyed plain or with milk, Assam tea offers a rich, full-bodied experience that is perfect for those seeking a hearty and invigorating cup.

An Eco-Friendly Tea Industry

The Assam tea industry plays a vital role in promoting eco-friendly practices, contributing not only to global tea markets but also to environmental sustainability. Cultivated in Assam's lush, biodiverse landscape, many tea estates are adopting sustainable agricultural practices to reduce environmental impact. These include the use of organic fertilizers, rainwater harvesting, and integrated pest management to maintain soil health and minimize chemical use.

Several tea estates in Assam are shifting toward zero-carbon processes, incorporating renewable energy sources like solar power for tea production. Additionally, sustainable certifications like Fair Trade, Rainforest Alliance, and Organic Certification are becoming more prevalent, ensuring that tea cultivation respects the local ecosystem and biodiversity.

The Assam tea industry also supports social sustainability by empowering local communities, creating jobs, and providing better living conditions and education for tea workers, while emphasizing ethical trade practices. As a result, Assam tea not only delivers a superior drinking experience but also contributes positively to the environment and local economies.

At Klariis Exim Private Limited, we take immense pride in sharing with the world one of India's finest treasures—Assam Black Tea. Assam, often regarded as the tea capital of India, is home to a rich tradition of tea cultivation. Our region, blessed with fertile soil and a tropical climate, produces some of the most aromatic, malty, and full-bodied teas cherished by connoisseurs across the globe.

What makes Assam tea truly special is its unique blend of bold flavor and rich history. Assam's tea gardens, where this exceptional tea is grown, have become a symbol of excellence, representing both the heritage and the evolving future of tea production. Each sip of Assam tea carries with it the essence of Assam's landscape—its vast green valleys, its mighty Brahmaputra River, and the dedication of countless tea growers.

At Klariis Exim, we are committed to exporting the finest quality CTC and orthodox Assam tea, sourced from our most reputable partners in Assam. We are not just sharing tea—we are sharing a tradition of authenticity, care, and sustainability.
